General Information and Helpful Hints

The touch tone system will prompt you through each step of your wager. However, once you have become accustomed to the system, you can enter your selections without waiting for most voice prompts; the system does require you to listen to the wager being read back for your confirmation.

It is recommended that you allow ample time to place your wagers. Once you have confirmed your wager (step 7), you are responsible for the transaction. Once the race has gone off, you have no recourse if your wager is incorrect, so listen carefully when your wager is confirmed (step 6).

If you are not certain what options are available to you at any point during your wager, press the star key (*) and then the pound key (#). A list of all available options will be read to you. This includes: Track, Race, Wager Type and Runner(horse). You will be given the numeric code for each available option. For Track and Wager Type, these are the codes listed in the Track and Wager Code Guide for the available selections for that day's program.

If you simply pause before responding to any of the option prompts, the system will automatically read the appropriate options/codes to you.

COMMON KEY FUNCTIONS:

Always end each entry by pressing the pound key (#)

To hear a menu (list of options) again, press # 8

To return to the previous menu (for example, to go back and change the Track), press the pound key (#) before making any numeric entries.

To select ALL Runners, press #9 twice (99)

To play more than one horse in a leg of a wager, separate the horses with the (*) key. In other words, if you want to use horses numbers 2 and 4 at the top of an exacta, press 2, then press *, then press 4.

To separate legs in a multi-leg wager, press the star key twice (). For example, in a Daily Double, press the horse(s) you want in the first leg, then press , then press the horse(s) you want in the second leg. A multi-leg (more than one race) wager will not be accepted until selections have been made for each leg of the wager.
